COL. CLARK'S SENSIBLE IDEAS.

Col. Lewis M. Clark, who is in New York, talked most wisely of the western racing situation in a recent issue of the Daily Telegraph. Here is Col. Clark's idea, in words:

"Racing affairs in the west," said he, "as everyone knows, have not been in a flourishing condition for several years, although the season at Chicago last year was remarkably good and healthful, all things considered. The troubles of Chicago in a racing way are matters of history, and they are rapidly being forgotten in the new and successful era which last season's racing gave promise of. There was friction and misunderstanding, which I do not care to discuss, and while it left our field fallow for a time, it has but served to show how strong a hold the sport has on the Chicago people."

"I have been especially interested in the Chicago end of the business for some time, and I believe that no city in the country takes such a thorough and genuine interest in racing as does Chicago. It seems to me that the whole Chicago public likes racing, likes to go and likes to bet on the horses, and nowhere outside of England have I seen so much general interest in the sport. You know the Chicago people do things on a big scale when they do them; they are democratic, live, and want what they want, and will come pretty near getting it, if it is reasonable, healthy and above board. I must say that I consider Chicago people better supporters of racing than those of New York or any other city."

"Even last year, when we had no big stakes by reason of our inability to provide for them under the laws we had in Illinois, the hundred days' racing was a big success. We had five to six thousand people daily, and running from this to ten thousand on special days. With the favorable legislation which we expect, Washington Park, Harlem and Hawthorne will probably divide up the racing season in an impartial way as to dates, and the old stakes be revived. This should give an impetus to the sport, and make the season a grand one. All our tracks are easy of access, too, which undoubtedly has much to do with the attendance."

"With regard to a reduction in the price of admission, I do not favor the plan, as I believe it cheapens racing in a way, and if made a feature, is liable to attract an undesirable element to its ultimate detriment. Those people who are really interested in the sport will pay a dollar, or a dollar and a half, as quick as they will pay fifty cents. They would really prefer to keep up a standard of excellence rather than to see any deterioration. Of course, the sport is for the public, and they are first to be considered, as I have always strongly stood out for. But I can see no good in making the public cheap, so to speak."

"The other Western tracks, I believe, are in good condition, although I have only been closely allied with Chicago racing of late years. The dates for the Louisville circuit have been announced, I see, making a total of seventy-four days. Lexington will have a short meeting, undoubtedly, as usual. I will be at Memphis for the Spring meeting, going from there to Louisville and then to Chicago for the balance of the season. Little Rock will have a Spring meeting, and may clash with Nashville, and Memphis, but not, I think, to any great degree."

"I am not here representing the Turf Congress with regard to any lines of reciprocal relations, but I hope to have a talk with Mr. Belmont and other members of the Jockey Club in a general way on the subject. I do not think there is any need for misunderstandings or quarrels between the two bodies, although a conference might bring about a little more harmonious working of affairs. This will be accomplished, doubtless. This is a big country of liberal and broad-minded people, and the turf is too much a part of the whole to become infected with any spirit of narrowness and bigotry. As you know, I was instrumental in the founding of the Western Turf Congress, and I believe thoroughly in its ability to carry out its intentions."

"Western racing is, of course, different from that of the East, but mainly in the details of speculation. I have always believed in the idea of ruling with an iron hand in the judges' stand, irrespective of persons, and I have carried out this principle in the twenty-five years that I have acted as judge. I do not believe in a racing judge leaving the stand, and do not like my associate judges to do so. The public looks upon a judge as its safeguard and friend against many things that are possible on a race-track, and likes to see the judge in his place of business. I have records of betting and everything for the control of the track right at my side. Many tracks have abolished the wire across the track and the hanging of purses, but I find the wire a most important thing in judging a close race. You don't shoot at squirrels without taking a sight, do you? Well, the wire from board to board is your 'sight' in judging a race, and the judges' stand should always be fifteen feet away from the rail."

"I am more and more interested in racing as I grow older, and hope to see a lot of it yet. Mr. August Belmont, Sr., Mr. Withers and Mr. Jerome, who were all my friends, have gone, and I find myself growing more conservative as time passes, but the most important thing to keep in view for the success of the turf, I still believe, as I have always, is the welfare of the public, which loves the sport and supports it."

NOTES OF THE TURF.

Morris Park stakes will be announced in this week's Calendar. Added money will be the rule instead of the guarantee system. The Gaiety, $750 added; Bouquet, $1000, and Laureate, $1000 added, are for 2-year-olds. The Larchmont, $500 added; Baychester, $750 added; Van Nest, $500 added, and Pocantico, $1000 added, are exclusively for 3-year-olds. The Metropolitan Handicap, in place of being guaranteed as last year, will have $3000 added. The conditions are $100, half forfeit, $10 if declared by March 4, or $20 if declared April 1. The Toboggan Handicap has $1000 added; New Rochelle, $750, and three Highweight Serial Handicaps each have $1500 added. The entrance to the series is $75 or $30 if declared by April 23. The Amateur Cup has $1200 in cash and $300 in plate added. There will be four fixed events for jumpers, each with $750 added.

All of Helen Scratch's foals to race have been victorious on the turf. The last one to win is the slashing bay by Morello, named Imperious, and owned by Barney Schreiber. The gelding came from the clouds the other day and won off, he being coupled in the betting with Joe Levy, and the pair going at 6 to 1. Barney Schreiber owns three of Helen Scratch's babies—Braw Scot, Greyhurst and Imperious. Her other thoroughbred foals were Grandee and La Reina. A peculiar fact is that all are by different sires. The old grey mare traces to the same female sources as did the famous Katy Pease and Hubbard, as the grey color has been handed down for more than one hundred years. Imperious is the only one of her foals that is not in color a grey.—Breeder and Sportsman.

Starter Caldwell thinks well of Lord Marmion and Traverser as nimble footed youngsters and is credited with expressing this opinion of them recently: "I am anxious to see these two come together in a race. I had McCormick's colt with me at Detroit, and I tell you he was a whirlwind at the post. I didn't think he had his equal until I started Lord Marmion, and I want to say he is a fast one. He can stand flat-footed and outbreak every one of these California horses. Traverser is the only one who can give him an argument, and as I have already said, I want to see the two come together."

Marjorie, the beautifully bred mare in Frank Phillips' string—she is by Iroquois—Tarantula, by Great Tom—has broken down and is to be retired for good. The "pipe" story about a dope sponge in her nostrils from San Francisco in connection with the mare's last race can be charged to the in-and-outism of daily newspaperdom.

Col. Jack Chinn says the old racing firm of Chinn & Morgan will have a stable this year including nine 2-year-olds, all by Bubbler, the sire of Ingomar. Next year they will introduce the first of the get of Lissak, of which they have nine at the Chinn farm near Harrodsburg, Ky. Lissak was truly a great horse and should be a good sire.

John Mackey has claimed the following names for his two-year-olds: Seco, ch. f, by Tenny—Tearless; Hemera, b. f, by Goldfinch—Hinda Dwyer; Tirade, b. c, by Rosseau—Young Flush; Julisse, b. f, by July—Calla Lily; Hula, ch. f, by Tenny—Dansante; Hermita, b. f, by Sir Modred—Solitude.

The sons of the late Mr. Fleischmann have decided to run their horses in the name of Fleischmann Sons' stable in the future. The string is now being trained by Tom Welch at his farm near Bound Brook, N. J. He has about twenty-five in hand.—New York Herald.

Thursday last John Brenock lost the two-year-old brown filly by Lord Hartington—Ala-la-la, by St. Blaise. The filly broke a leg in play and was shot. Mr. Brenock regarded her as the most promising of his seven two-year-olds.

Newport will give no stakes next spring, depending on liberal purse programs solely. The reason given being that their meeting begins so early owners of stake horses will not take the risk of entering them freely.

W. Lakeland is gathering together a select string of horses belonging to Marcus Daly for an eastern campaign. Hamburg, Ogden and several promising two-year-olds are already at Lakeland's stable at Brighton Beach.

At this late date Mr. James R. Keene declares that there was a leak in his stable as to the condition of his horses last season and that he was forestalled in the betting about those which won.

The Jockey Club holds its annual meeting the day after tomorrow. Track officials for the year will then be selected and announced.

The price on Ben Brush, as quoted on Florida reports is $10,000—far more reasonable than the Florida figure of $25,000.

THE AMERICAN SPORTING MANUAL.

The American Sporting Manual will be far above what was promised for it. The book will contain at least 200 pages. Its turf, billiard and pugilistic records will outclass any ever before printed in an annual book of records. The book will be on general sale by Thursday, at 25 cents. Its covers will be substantial and handsome and its contents welcome to every lover of correct records. Some old records have been probed and rejected or corrected. The handicap table explanations will fill a long felt want. All the contents will be protected by registration and copyright and all parties are warned not to use them.

NEW ORLEANS' TWO-YEAR-OLDS.

The advance guard of the 2-year-olds of 1898 will soon be in action at New Orleans. Last year some very useful performers—Van Antwerp, Millstream, Percy F. Georgie and others, that afterwards won over northern courses—made their initial essays over the Crescent City track.

This year hopeful and partial owners are claiming that the New Orleans "class" is as good, if not better, than it was last year, and great things are whispered about of the preparatory trials of the fiery youngsters soon to challenge their share of attention from patrons of racing. It is reported that nearly 100 2-year-olds are at the track, many of which are in a forward condition of training. Some of the presumed best at New Orleans will no doubt be reserved for the more important meetings to come later on, but there is on the whole a very cheerful prospect of good 2-year-old racing there. Latest gossip about the young ones says:

Jake Marklein, Gardner's trainer, has three far advanced in their work. They are a bay colt by Quicklime—Satisfaction; a bay gelding by St. Blaise—Viscountess, and a chestnut filly by Fonso—Red Leaves. All three have been credited with three-eighths in better than 38.

Bennington & Gardner have a bunch of four, of which they expect great things. The black filly by Iroquois—West Anna and the chestnut filly by Bishop—Mollie D, have worked three-eighths in 38. Besides those they have a particularly good looking brown filly by Tremont—Gypsy and a bay colt by Soudan—Pastel.

J. J. McCafferty is working on the road a chestnut filly by Great Tom—Lily B, and a bay colt by Bishop—Kennebec.

F. H. Hickok has a youngster in his stable that was caught going a half in almost as good as :50 with about 105 pounds up. This is by long odds the best move credited to any 2-year-old at the New Orleans track. Hickok's lot includes a bay filly by Leonatus—Hermitage that is being warmly touted; a bay colt by Panique—Hannah that is credited with a quarter in 24; a brown colt by Abana—Hindooette, and a speedy Faustus filly out of Bathinia.

Clint De Witt has worked a bay colt by Deceiver—Springtime a quarter in :24.

James Robertson has pinned great hopes on a chestnut colt by Deceiver—Oasis that has shown him an eighth better than :12 and three-eighths better than :38. He also has a bay filly by Bradford—Jennie Ten Broeck.

S. J. Charles has a full sister to Gilray that has shown well. A. X. Donahue's chestnut gelding by Farandole—Sister Anita has been sent three eighths in 38. Fred Wood is working one by Jim Brown's old Faustus sprinter Bobby Beach—Risa K, the dam of Dorah Woods. Three eighths in better than 37 is credited to this one.

Dick Rome has a chestnut filly by Montana Regent—Dollkens, that he thinks highly of. J. & F. Grefer have a full sister to Panway, "Virginia" Bradley's old campaigner, that is a promising filly. George Cadwallader has a bay colt by Macduff—Miss Buford, and a brown colt by Governor Foraker—Miss Dixon, and both have shown excellently in their preparation.

THE LEATHER COVERED MANUAL.

There will be a limited number of copies of the American Sporting Manual bound in flexible leather. Only local and mail-direct-orders will be supplied. The leather covered book will be ready by January 15, at 50 cents. The leather covered Manual will not be on general sale.

 Winner—Ch. c, by Brutus—Mistletoe.
 Start good. Won easily. There was a smart drive for the place. Mistletoe ran above the mark and seemed to outclass his field. He favors fast going. The Wheel spun merrily. She was used too much, is only a sprinter and went to pieces in the stretch. Mainbar isn't much. He was poorly ridden and finished strong. Brambella likes distance off and the mud. She was badly ridden. The Dipper does best on hard going and at a distance. He was shut off at start. The race was not one of deep value as to future form.

 Winner—B. c, by Duncombe—Veronica.
 Start fair. Won easily; the next five were driving. Koran in the going was best. He was lucky too. Abina had bad luck. She was shut off on first turn and in back stretch, and was far from well ridden. Marks had all kinds of bad luck. He was cut off at start and on first turn and not well ridden. Colonial Dame runs as if she favors a route and a hard track. She was not well handled. Watch Kylo. He will be of some account in mud. Little T. G. is but a sprinter. Glenower was closing at end and was vily ridden. El Moro ran short. Moringa had bad luck and was badly ridden.

Griggs had all kinds of bad luck and was badly ridden. He is a hard horse to handle. Was coming strong at finish. Newsgatherer's forte is mud. He was closing stoutly from a strong beginning. He is ready. So is Griggs.
